

The Integration Platform for Banks, Credit Unions, Fintechs, and Cores

PortX is a financial institution's hub for connecting fintech partners and its banking core—a catalyst for accelerating innovative financial products. We go beyond providing an industry-leading platform with support from financial integration experts built into every contract through our Connectivity-as-a-Service methodology.

Fintech Hub: the Integration-Platform-as-a-Service for FIs

PortX is the affordable and secure iPaaS designed specifically for banks, credit unions, fintechs, and cores. The platform provides FIs with the “integration toolbox” and development support they need to connect with fintechs, manage payments, launch projects faster, and eliminate vendor dependencies.

 “With PortX’s middleware solution, we’re poised to cut costs & improve our ability to serve our customers in real-time. PortX’s reusable APIs will significantly simplify our workflow, cutting down the time we previously spent on one-off integrations.”

- Christian Ruppe, CTO, Colony Bank

Connectivity-as-a-Service

PortX is a comprehensive connectivity-as-a-service (CaaS) integration platform that enables FIs to leverage the benefits of best-of-breed fintechs with reduced vendor management overhead. Accelerate speed-to-market for innovative products with a team of personalized financial integration experts who have your back.

 “The PortX engineering team was amazing to work with throughout the project. They were always responsive and willing to jump on a call with our team and our partners to diagnose any issue. I think that level of commitment from a partner is unheard of in our industry.”

- Larry Lou, CTO, Leader Bank

Start your journey in the middle...

Step one: Unlock real-time access to core data

Begin with cost-effective, reliable, and reusable API-led integration platform connectivity that abstracts the banking core from its central role and other systems to give your FI full control of its customer data.

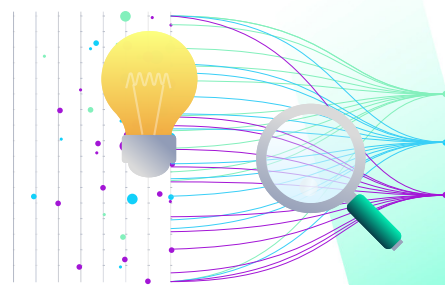

Step two: Enable Universal Connectivity

Meticulously select from top-tier banking cores, payment networks, and fintech solutions. PortX doesn't limit your FI to the partnerships and connections you can create. Our Connect Marketplace includes pre-built fintech and banking core connectors to give you a head start.

Step three: Discover New Opportunities

A comprehensive integration strategy culminates in a 360-degree view of your customer, the versatility to monetize your data, and the insights to create new lines of business efficiently.

...and end with a culture of rapid innovation.
